Dr Richard Eisenmajer

Richard is a Clinical Psychologist with a special interest in Autism Spectrum Disorders. He has over 10 years of experience working as a Psychologist in this field.

Richard specialises in the diagnosis and management of children, adolescents and adults with Autism and Asperger's Syndrome. He has a particular interest in promoting the understanding of what it is like to have an autism spectrum disorder and providing insight into the inner worlds of these individuals. Richard presents at workshops and conferences and provides specialist training for professionals, teachers, aides, parents, carers and others in the autism community.

Richard completed his PhD and published research into the theory of Mind Abilities of people with Autism and Asperger's Syndrome. Richard's DVD "Imagine Having Asperger's Syndrome: A First Consultation" provides practical and effective strategies for interacting and managing people with this condition.
